MISSION STATEMENT

Our goal is to assist families and caregivers with the responsibilities that senior adults may encounter when thinking of selling their homes.

We strive to make people feel at ease and simplify what might be an overwhelming experience. The motivating factor is our desire to incorporate consideration and kindness into our services.

During these difficult times, it is a comfort to have someone available to help orchestrate the details of a life-changing move.

Both Alice and Judy have personally experienced the process of assisting aging parents and family members while continuing to maintain their own family lives and commitments.

Alice and Judy recognize the need for a service that offers assistance in all aspects of life’s transitions, such as the loss of a loved one or moving to a more convenient location and home that would better suit their current needs.
